On behalf of the Rancho Santa Fe Unit of Rady Children’s Hospital Auxiliary, welcome to our 14th annual gala “Stand Up for Rady Children’s Peckham Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders, an Evening With Bill Cosby.”

Cancer is a terrible plight . . . but when it affects a child, it seems especially unfair. Cancer affects not only the child, but their family and friends as well.

The doctors and staff at Rady Children’s Hospital deal with this reality every day. The new Rady Children’s Peckham Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders will have the finest technology and best professional family care available worldwide, but it is not nearly enough. We need to wipe out this disease. It is possible. Through independent funding towards cancer research and ongoing patient and family care, the future will be brighter.

I would like to extend a very special thank you to Austin Gatus for sharing his personal experience with us tonight and bringing to light what it means to live with childhood cancer.

My thanks to the many committee chairs and auxiliary members who came together to make tonight so wonderful, with special recognition to Kathy Flather, Unit Chair; Alex Coe, Unit Vice-Chair; Elise Molin and Cathy Polk, Gala Underwriting Chair and Co-Chair; Michele Pius, Underwriting Vice-Chair; and Gabrielle Oratz and Marlena Niemann, Gala Auction Chair and Vice-Chair.

On behalf of the Rancho Santa Fe Unit of Rady Children’s Hospital Auxiliary, and the patients and families going through treatment at Rady Children’s Peckham Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders, I extend our sincere gratitude for your support.

Together we can make a difference.

Sincerely,

Cindy Leonard, 2010 Gala Chair

On behalf of the Rancho Santa Fe Unit of Rady Children’s Hospital Auxiliary, welcome to our 14th annual benefit, “Stand Up for Rady Children’s Cancer Care Center, An Evening with Bill Cosby.”

I know that there are many worthy organizations you can and do support. I am grateful for your commitment to Rady Children’s Hospital. Thanks to the overwhelming generosity of our patrons over the past 13 years, our Unit has raised over $8 million for the Hospital.

This year our Unit has designated the funds from this event to the Peckham Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders, the largest pediatric cancer care facility in San Diego, Imperial, and South Riverside Counties. The cost of cancer treatment and care is staggering—even with good insurance; out of pocket expenses can run as high as $3,000 per month. Over half the children admitted either do not have insurance or have inadequate insurance. It is comforting to know that Rady Children’s Hospital treats all children regardless of the family’s ability to pay.

I would like to thank this year’s Gala Chair, Cindy Leonard. She and her team of dynamic hardworking women have made this evening possible. A big thank you to our Underwriting Chair, Elise Molin; Underwriting Co-Chair, Cathy Polk; Underwriting Vice-Chair, Michelle Pius; Auction Chair, Gabrielle Oratz; Auction Vice-Chair, Marlena Niemann, and the many committee chairs and unit members for their hard work and dedication.

Also, I’d like to thank our title sponsor McCain Inc. Beth and Jeffrey McCain have been incredibly generous over the years to Rady Children’s Hospital not only as sponsors but Beth has been a long-time unit member and an integral part of this evening’s festivities. We are very grateful for their support.

And finally, I would like to extend a special thank you to Mr. Bill Cosby for making tonight the premier fundraising event in San Diego. I would also like to thank The Grand Del Mar and the Rancho Santa Fe community for their continuing support of the Hospital.

We have all been touched by cancer in some way. With the help of funds raised this evening, it’s comforting to know the Peckham Center is able to do everything in their power to save children with life threatening diseases. On behalf of the Rancho Santa Fe Unit of Rady Children’s Hospital Auxiliary and the many families and sick children who benefit from your generosity, a heartfelt thank you.

Sincerely,

Kathy Flather, 2010 Unit Chair

Dear Friend and Supporter of Rady Children’s:

Thank you for being a part of this wonderful event. It is so much more than just an evening of fun and fellowship. Tonight you are helping Rady Children’s in a profound and meaningful way through your support of the Peckham Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders at Rady Children’s Hospital-San Diego.

Not only does the Peckham Center provide comprehensive medical care for children with cancer, our team helps design and conduct clinical trials that are improving cure rates and quality of life for children and adolescents with cancer.

The impact of your gifts is real. Last year alone, 184 children were newly diagnosed with cancer or other blood disorders. Another 400 received ongoing active treatment and an additional 700 cancer patients received follow-up care. There were 13,031 inpatient and outpatient visits. You are helping to touch so many lives.

And there’s much more. Rady Children’s provides a wide range of resources, from schooling and therapeutic play to support groups and activities. We’re there for families at the time of initial diagnosis, through treatment and far beyond. These programs – profoundly important to families – are often 100 percent dependent on philanthropy.

Tonight will be filled with laughter. But, perhaps even more importantly, it is helping to bring hope and healing to the children of our community. And that gives us all a reason to smile.

With warmest regards,

Kathleen A. Sellick
President and Chief Executive Officer, Rady Children’s Hospital

The Peckham Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders at Rady Children’s Hospital is the largest pediatric cancer care facility in San Diego, Imperial and South Riverside counties. Last year there were more than 13,031 cancer-related visits, over half of them for chemotherapy and other infusion treatments.

Rady Children’s Hospital is the sole facility in San Diego County to perform pediatric bone marrow transplants. The center also provides ongoing care to some 700 patients annually. Cancer care programs extend beyond providing medical care, including art and music therapy, and psychological-social services for patients and their families during treatment.

Special assistance is given to parents of patients to inform and educate them about the process; a dedicated liaison facilitates communication between parents and physicians; and staff assists with insurance and other practicalities. Age-specific support groups are available for teen-aged cancer patients and siblings of cancer patients. Through its Integrative Medicine Program, therapeutic programs such as healing touch, massage, acupunture, meditation, nutritional education and yoga decrease the side effects and enhance quality of life for patients and their families.

Palliative care nurses assist in critical cases to soothe anxieties and other intense emotions prior to a patient entering hospice care. By providing this additional layer of assistance to patients and families, and enabling children to do things they want and need to do, they help families with end of life decisions during one of the most difficult times in a parent’s life: the loss of a child.

Cancer kills more children than any other disease -- more than asthma, cystic fibrosis, diabetes and pediatric AIDS combined. All children are potentially at risk because childhood cancers occur unpredictably and randomly, arising from non-inherited mutations.

Cancers in very young children are especially aggressive--80 percent of children have metastasized cancer at the time of diagnosis compared to 20 percent of adults. The duration of chemotherapy treatment and type of drugs that are used depend on the type of cancer the child has and his or her response to the drugs. Every child’s treatment differs, so a child may receive daily, weekly, or monthly chemotherapy treatments. Depending on the type of cancer and therapy plan, treatment can span several years.

In fiscal year 2009, Rady Children’s Hospital had 6,389 visits to the Carley Copley Hematology Oncology Clinic for chemotherapy and other infusion treatments. The average cost of a chemotherapy visit is $1,022. The average insurance reimbursement is $885, which results in a shortfall of $137 per visit. Nearly 50 percent of the children admitted to Rady Children’s Hospital have inadequate health insurance, which creates an even greater shortfall. This, combined with rising medical costs and diminishing reimbursements from federal and state governments, strains the hospital’s resources even as it fulfills its mission to provide the best care possible for every sick child who walks through the doors.

Tonight you will have the opportunity to directly fund the cost of chemotherapy treatments at Rady Children’s Hospital. After the live auction, the auctioneer will call out funding nine funding levels: $50,000, $25,000, $10,000, $5,000, $2,500, $1,000, $500, $250 and $100. When you hear the level at which you want to make contribution, raise your paddle until your bid card is called. Your contribution is a 100% tax-deductible gift that will provide life-saving care to a child.
“I dream of a safe place for children and that is why every year I support Rady Children’s Hospital.”

THE RANCHO SANTA FE UNIT

Rady Children’s Hospital is a 261-bed pediatric care facility providing the largest source of comprehensive pediatric medical services in San Diego, southern Riverside and Imperial counties. As the sole hospital in the San Diego area dedicated exclusively to pediatric healthcare, Rady Children’s is the region’s only designated pediatric trauma center. Rady Children’s has a 54-bed Pediatric Critical Care unit and a 38-bed Neonatal Intensive Care unit, along with the only comprehensive pediatric Cancer Care Center in San Diego.

The Rancho Santa Fe Unit of Rady Children’s Hospital Auxiliary originated in 1960 as the San Dieguito Unit. Its 35 charter members hailed from the large unincorporated San Dieguito area north and east of Del Mar and west of Escondido. As auxiliary-wide membership grew, in 1983 the name of the unit changed to Rancho Santa to reflect the locale of the majority of the membership.

For approximately 16 years the unit raised funds for the hospital through the sale of crafts at the Auxiliary’s Annual Craft Fair. In the ‘70s the Unit’s main fundraiser was a horse show held at the Rancho Santa Fe Riding Club. Following the horse shows came “Concerts on the Green,” a family event with musical entertainment, food and fireworks, which were held on summer evenings from 1977 through 1996.

In 1997, a decision was made to discontinue the concerts in order to focus on one event, which would allow members to complete volunteer work prior to summer. A spectacular May gala was held at a private estate and included cocktails, dinner, dancing, and both silent and live auctions. From 1997’s “Una Notte a Venizia” to “Grecian Grandeur” in 2007, this annual event was the Unit’s major fundraiser for 11 years.

While the annual gala was well-attended and supported throughout the community, the members decided to refresh the format in order to host an event that would both retain long-time supporters and attract new ones. In 2008, the Unit hosted Stand Up for Rady Children’s Cancer Care Center, an Evening With Jay Leno. The event, held at The Grand Del Mar, featured fabulous food and fantastic auction items followed by a hearty laugh courtesy of signature entertainer and philanthropist, Jay Leno. In 2009, our signature entertainer was Frank Caliendo, man of a million faces and star of his own TV show. Our 2010 Stand Up event benefiting the Peckham Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders features Bill Cosby, whose family-friendly humor has entertained and delighted Americans for decades.

Today, membership has grown to 66 active and 99 supporting members who enjoy the same spirit and tradition as those first 35 members: a commitment to support and sustain excellent health care for all children in the greater San Diego community.
In 1995, Rady Children's Hospital-San Diego joined 19 other leading pediatric hospitals in North America to form Children's Circle of Care to recognize and honor major benefactors. Currently, 24 children’s hospitals are members of this special group.

Our Mission
To advance the work of pediatric patient care, research and teaching by encouraging and recognizing annual major gift giving to participating children’s hospitals in North America.
